

This is a printer friendly version of an article from the The Greenville News
To print this article open the file menu and choose Print.

Back

Oil scarcity, global warming to be topic of forum

Published: Monday, February 5, 2007 - 10:38 am

By Mike Foley
STAFF WRITER
mfoley@greenvillenews.com

Oil scarcity and global warming are hot topics these days.

Learn more about both during a presentation/discussion on: "Climate Change and the End of Oil: Surviving the Converging Catastrophes of the 21st Century," planned March 14 from 7-8:30 p.m. in the Watkins Room of Furman's University Center.

There, Furman and Upstate Forever will present James Howard Kunstler, author of "The Long Emergency" and "Geography of Nowhere."

The event is the first in Upstate Forever's Climate Change speaker series. The presentation is free and open to the public.

Advertisement

For more information, call Upstate Forever at: (864) 250-0500, or e-mail John Tynan at: jtynan@upstateforever.org

Or visit: www.upstateforever.org

STORYCHAT
What's your view?
Click here to add your comment to this story.